

Diane Dreyer

Diane spent 34 years teaching in the Wright City School System (1987-2021). Besides spending her career as a teacher here, she is also a lifelong resident of Wright City, born Diane Hollenbeck and graduating as a member of the Class of 1979. She began her career as the school district's first pre-school teacher; she also helped with the development of the school's first program. Later in her career, she became a kindergarten teacher for the school, being one of the teachers to first teach it as a full day kindergarten class. She was also instrumental in helping develop this curriculum as it moved from a partial day program to all-day.

Diane was rewarded with the honor of being named "Teacher of the Year" by her peers at East Elementary in 2010.

Diane was also Assistant Softball Coach for the high school during the late 80's, early 90's and Asst. Softball Coach for Middle School during the 2006-07 period.

Diane graduated from the University of Missouri at Columbia- Bachelor of Science in Animal Science, earned Early Childhood PK-3 and Elementary Grades 1-8 teaching certificate from Lindenwood University and graduated from Lindenwood University- Master of Arts in Education.

She retired in 2021
